Dissertation Title:

Building Trust in Modern Computing Platforms

For information about what happens after your doctoral exam please visit the following website:

https://www.ethz.ch/students/en/doctorate/final-steps.html

1. Take your doctoral exam
2. Confirmation of your thesis by a Department Conference
3. Validation of your provisional graduation on the next possible official Doctoral Graduation Date following the Department Conference that confirmed your thesis

Handing in the final copies of your thesis is only possible when you receive the official provisional confirmation letter after the official Doctoral Graduation Date.

IMPORTANT:
According to Art. 11 of the Rector's Implementation Provisions for the Ordinance on Doctoral Studies "The title and content of the doctoral thesis may no longer be altered after approval by the Department Conference." This rule does not apply for corrections of the orthography and the layout.

Changes concerning the title of your thesis must be communicated to the Doctoral Administration before confirmation through the Department Conference. If the title on your final copies is not the same as the one confirmed by the Department Conference we will demand a reprint!

We also reserve the right to demand a reprint if the following points are not complied with:

- If you use something other than the official title page as cover of your thesis this cover must at least contain your name, the title of your thesis and the dissertation number
- The official title page must correspond exactly to the template rendered on our homepage: https://www.ethz.ch/content/dam/ethz/associates/students/doktorat/files-EN/titelpage_EN.pdf
- The title page must be issued throughout in the same language of your thesis.
- The publication year of your thesis must correspond to the date of the ETH Department Conference (Departementskonferenz) on which your thesis was approved
- Please use only „ETH Zürich" resp. "ETH Zurich" as name for our university.
- Your previous degree (Master/Diploma) has to be rendered exactly as indicated on your Diploma or Master certificate. That also applies to the name of the university that awarded that degree. If the name of the university has changed since your graduation you still must use the name appearing on your degree certificate!
- Please note that spiral, ring and/or wedge bindings are not permitted for the final copies of your thesis because these binding methods are not accepted by the libraries.
